Numb. 3344

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday November 25 to Monday November 29 1697.

Kensington, November 27.

THE Lord Bishop of Rochester, with the Prebendaries of the Collegiate Church of Westminster, attended His Majesty, and presented the following Address.

May it please Your most Excellent Majesty,

WE Your Majesties most Loyal, and Dutiful Subjects, the Dean, and Prebendaries of Your Collegiate Church of St. Peter in Westminster, do most humbly crave leave to present You our hearty Congratulations, for Your Majesties safe, prosperous, and peaceful return into Your Dominions; and, at the same time, in Your Royal Presence, to render our Thanks to Almighty God, for the many signal Instances of his especial Protection, and Favour to Your Majesty, through the whole Course of Your Life: wherein You have been all along conducted by Gods Providence, in the way of true Glory; as being eminently designed by Him, to rescue whole Nations, and the true Church from Violence, and Invasion.

We cannot, Sir, but remember how, in Your tender years, and first entrance into War, God thought fit to choose, and call You forth, and lead You by the Hand, as it were, to repair the deplorable Breaches of Your own Native Country, and to enable You, almost singly, to oppose, and stop the overflowing Irruption of a Mighty Enemy.

We next admire the manifest footsteps of the same Allwise Providence, in the blessed Deliverance from Popery and Slavery, which God was pleas'd to work out by Your Majesty, for this Church, and Kingdom: whereof we of Your Church of Westminster have reason to be more particularly sensible; seeing ours was the first, that was mark'd out, and prosecuted, and intended as a Prey to Romish Superstition.

And since that, we have often had fresh Causes to adore the Almighty's continued Goodness in the manifold, and marvelous preservations of Your Royal Person, during the whole progress of a dangerous War; Now especially, when God has, at last, compleated those his former Mercies, by establishing, Your just Rights every where, and our Liberty, and Religion, in a happy, and honourable Peace: thereby making Your Majesty once more His Own Instrument, to reduce within its bounds the same terrible power, which threaten'd all Europe once again; and, by You, to say to it, as He did to the Ocean, Thus far shalt thou go, and no farther.

Wherefore, we first unfeignedly acknowledge the goodness of God to us, Next, we do, as all Christendom ought, join in our most affectionate Thanks to Your Majesty; not knowing any other Humane means, that could have effected all this for us, but such a steddy Conduct, such a Mind, undaunted towards Your Enemies, immoveably true to Your Allies; and that strengthen'd by a well-grounded trust in the goodness of Your Cause, and Gods assistance.

Give us leave, Sir, farther to assure Your Majesty, that we shall, in our several Stations, as we are, in right, and gratitude, bound, take all opportunities to shew our Affection, and Zeal for Your Sacred Person, and Government, and chiefly in our Prayers to God, for Your long Life, and happy Reign.

And may the same Good, and Gracious God, who has so wonderfully raised Your Majesty, and so long visibly protected You, still continue His watchful Care over You. May the Crown, which God was pleased to put on Your Head, in our Church, long flourish. May it be adorn'd with all the Blessings of perpetual Peace, or Victory, till You shall exchange it for a Crown of Glory.

The following Address from the Borough of Plymouth was presented to His Majesty by Sir Francis Drake.

The Humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Magistrates, Common-Council, Principal and other Inhabitants of Your Majesties Borough of Plimouth in the County of Devon.

WE presume not most Gracious Sovereign to describe Your Wisdom, the Greatness of Your Mind, or Actions, their Fame is gone out through the World, and the most Ambitious Monarchs cannot but be Your Humble Admirers.

'Tis the Good You do, Your Majesty takes delight in; And we can never enough Magnifie that Mercy, that hath raised up so great a Deliverer.

The day of Your coming to Relieve our Distresses (having been appointed as a perpetual Record for our Preservation, from the worst of Evils) was a Remarkable Presage of the greatest of Blessings, and we now Enjoy them in the Security of our Religion, and Laws, for which we owe Your Majesty our utmost Acknowledgments.

We shall ever pray the Almighty Goodness (who hath answered the Desires of our Hearts, in Your Safe Return, and given Success to Your Glorious Designs, of bringing the late Great War to so Honourable and Happy a Conclusion) fully to Recompence all Your Labours and Travels.

And in a deep Sence of the Inestimable Benefits we receive, by Your Majesty's Princely Care, and Conduct, beg leave to Assure Your Most Sacred Majesty, that the Grateful'st Expressions of our Loyal and Dutiful Affections, will ever be our truest Delights, who desire nothing equal to that of Your Majesty's being the most Happy King, of the Happiest People.

The Lord Mayor and other Commissioners of Lieutenancy for the City of London, and Liberties thereof, have likewise presented a very Loyal and Affectionate Address to His Majesty, congratulating His Majesty's Safe Return and Conclusion of the Peace; being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Romney.

The Humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Town of Warrington, upon the same Occasion, was presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Warrington.

The Humble and Congratulatory Address of the Mayor, Bayliffs and Burgesses of the Borough of Abingdon in the County of Berks, was likewise presented to His Majesty.

The Humble Address of the Mayor, Bayliffs, Burgesses, and Corporation of the Town and County of Southampton, was presented to His Majesty by Sir Benjamin Newland, one of their Representatives in Parliament.

The Humble Address of His Majesty's Dissenting Protestant Subjects in the Borough of Colchester, was presented to His Majesty; as also

The Humble Address of the Grand Jury for the Hundred of Osulston in the County of Middlesex.

All which Addresses His Majesty received very graciously.

Warsaw, Nov. 16. The Great Men, who favoured the Prince of Conti, do all by degrees submit themselves to the King; Prince Sapieha, Great General of Lithuania, with those that depend on him, are likewise about making their Peace, in order to which the Crown Treasurer has laboured with much earnestness, and with leave from the King has allowed them 3 weeks, to determine their Resolution. The Provincial Dyets lately held in the Duchy of Lithuania, are most of them ended, with a Declaration of their firm adherence to his Majesty, and that they will be ready to mount on Horseback whenever his Service shall require it. The Primate continues all this while at Lowitz; The Brandenburgh Minister, (who has been already very Instrumental in bringing over all the Family of Lubomirski to the Kings Interests) is going thither, to try if he can have the success

With